14TH YEAR. NO. 93.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1898.

TWO CENTS

NO NEED TO HURRY.

Now That Spaniards Will Allow Supplies Landed,

EVACUATION CAN BE DELAYED.

This Will Not Throw Our Troops Into Cuba at a Time When There Is So Much Danger of Sickness—25,000 Probably Enough.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The authorities here feel, it was stated yesterday, that by consenting to the entry of the Comal with food supplies, the Spanish officials in large measure ridged the question of evacuation of the urgency that attached to it. So long as the Cubans, starving and naked, were denied the relief that might come to them from the United States government and the Red Cross, there was a powerful reason for insisting upon the immediate evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish government officials, in order that, taking possession ourselves, we might succor the distressed Cubans. Now, however, that our government is free to do this under existing conditions, there is not the same necessity for haste, and the war department will not be obliged to force American troops in numbers into Cuba in the very worst part of the season, so far as health conditions are concerned. Even among the immune regiments at Santiago there seems to be much sickness.

It may be said that the president expects that the movement for evacuation will begin toward the latter part of October and be concluded soon after New Year. It is expected that the plan will be to place a garrison at one point after another, beginning probably at the western end of the island. The authorities have reached the conclusion, in view of the spirit shown by the Cubans as reported to it, that no more than 25,000 men will be required.

TYPHOID SPREADING.

Deaths Occurred Also at Camp Meade. Infected Regiment to Be Moved Away.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 27.—Typhoid fever is getting in its deadly work at Camp Meade. Three deaths occurred between Saturday night and yesterday morning. One was Private William Morgan, Company A, First Maryland, whose remains were shipped yesterday evening to Frederick City, Md. The others were Corporals Roy W. Johnson and August Foss, Company H, Second regiment, engineer corps.

Private J. S. Thompson of the corps reserve ambulance company, who was taken away from here by the Lancaster general hospital ten days ago, died Sunday night of typhoid. Private Draper T. Ferry, Company M, Ninth Pennsylvania, died yesterday at the Harrisburg hospital of fever contracted in the south. His body was shipped to New Albany, Bradford county. Private Benjamin Derlouiner, Company M, Tenth Ohio, was struck by lightning and instantly killed last evening during a heavy rain storm, while guarding the tent of a military tailor. Derlouiner's home is at Cincinnati.

The disease is spreading so rapidly in the Two Hundred and Third New York that the regiment will be sent away as soon as a suitable camping ground is found. The engineers were hunting for a site yesterday, and it is probable that the troops will be isolated in the Conewago hills in the vicinity of Elizabethtown. New tents will be issued to them and extra precautions taken to confine the disease to this command.

A trainload of typhoid patients was taken to Philadelphia hospitals last evening by a Red Cross train. This society is taking excellent care of the sick in its hospital here, and has secured the services of a specialist to treat the typhoid cases. The patients are cared for by trained female nurses assisted by details from the reserve ambulance corps. Chief Surgeon Girard will continue to send the sick to hospitals as fast as they can be moved with safety. Patients are being furloughed from the two division hospitals whenever they are able to travel alone.

Colonel Girard has received permission from Surgeon General Sternburg to employ additional contract surgeons. There is comparatively little sickness in the corps outside of the New York regiments.

The order consolidating the Fifteenth Pennsylvania regiment and the Ninth Ohio colored battalion has been revoked, and they will remain separate and distinct.

The ladies of the Soldiers' Rest at Harrisburg have received a large donation from the people of Wilmington, Del., of such things as will be a great help to them in feeding the hundreds of soldiers who visit the rooms of the association.

Trial by Court-martial.

DENVER, Sept. 27.—The trial of Chaplain Joseph P. McIntyre of the battleship Oregon, by court-martial, for the alleged use of language unbecoming an officer of the navy and calculated to destroy the good order and discipline of the navy during the delivery of a lecture in Denver, Aug. 8, was begun yesterday. The motion of his attorney to quash the charges was denied. The prisoner entered a plea of not guilty and the court adjourned until this morning.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

Friends of Different Candidates Booming Them For the Convention Tomorrow.

SYRABUSE, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Many of the 450 delegates to the Democratic state convention tomorrow were here last night. Each candidate for a place upon the state ticket is well represented.

Among the first upon the ground was the Erie county delegation, and the gubernatorial boom of Justice Robert C. Titus was among the earliest to be launched here. Mayor James K. McGuire's friends are naturally numerous and enthusiastic in his home town.

Some of the Tammany men are here talking of Mayor Van Wyck's candidacy. His chances, however, received a setback last night when members of the Erie county delegation announced that Mr. Croker had stated to them that the candidate for governor would not be named from territory south of Albany.

The first gubernatorial candidate to arrive here was Congressman William Sulzer. The next to arrive was John B. Stanchfield of Elmira.

Elliott Dantforth's friends are here in large force.

Roosevelt Likely the Nominee.

SARATOGA, Sept. 27.—There was hardly an impartial observer here last night who did not believe that the ticket to be nominated by the Republican state convention today will be headed by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for governor and Timothy L. Woodruff for lieutenant governor.

ADMIRER OF LINCOLN.

One of Aguinaldo's Representatives Visited His Statue in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Major General Francis V. Greene of the American army of invasion of the Philippines and Senor Felipe Angoncillo, vice president of Aguinaldo's revolutionary government, arrived in Chicago yesterday enroute to Washington.

Senor Angoncillo, at his own request, was driven to Lincoln park to see the big bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, who, the Philippine statesman said, was his ideal American statesman and citizen.

"In all my studies I have paid the most attention to the growth of the power and influence of this United States government," said Senor Angoncillo. He further said in part: "It is my ideal of a government, and it is the pattern which the Philippine people will follow when they are independent."

General Greene expressed a very high opinion of the Philippines as men and fighters.

CHANGED TO MANSLAUGHTER.

Alleged Confession of Oxley Regarding the Affair With Miss Gill.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 27.—The complaint against Oxley and Guernsey, in the Emma Gill case, was changed yesterday from attempt to procure an abortion to that of manslaughter.

The brother of Harry Oxley said that when Harry was arrested his mother told him to tell the whole truth in the case, and this is his story in substance:

Emma Gill told him of her condition and he told Guernsey, and the latter told him to marry the girl. He went to Emma Gill and expressed his willingness to marry her. She said she knew Dr. Guilford and that she could cure her of her trouble by an operation. She did not wish to marry him because there was another fellow (Foster) who wanted to marry her and did not know her true character. She considered him a better catch.

LOAN COMPANY IN TROUBLE.

Had Too Much Money Out on Western Boom Town Property.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Otto T. Bandard of 30 Broad street was yesterday appointed receiver of the New England Loan and Trust company by Judge Shipmon of the United States circuit court, on a suit brought by the Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia and Sabillion S. Allen of St. Albans, Vt.

The firm dealt in city and farm mortgages in the west. Its last printed statement showed a surplus of $100,000. The receiver's bond is fixed at $75,000.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27.—The company is said to hold $5,000,000 in loans and to have $175,000 cash on hand. The receiver'ship is said to have been forced by the company's inability to close on loans made in 1888 and 1889 on western boom town property, most of which is said to be in Omaha, and which has proven a loss.

FANNY DAVENPORT DEAD.

DUXBURY, Mass., Sept. 27.—Fanny Davenport (Mrs. Melbourne McDowell), the actress, died at her summer home, Melbourne Hall, last night of enlargement of the heart.

Weather Forecast.

Fair; fresh variable winds, diminishing.

LIKELY FATAL BLOW.

Sister Struck Her Brother by Mistake, Near Kenton.

THOUGHT HE WAS CHICKEN THIEF.

Hit Him With an Ax—His Skull Was Crushed—The Real Culprit Proved to Be a Junkdealer by the Name of Mike Smith.

KENTON, O., Sept. 27.—George Charlton, living two miles east of town, will probably lose his life through a strange accident. Hearing a noise in his chicken coop about midnight Sunday night he went out to investigate. Soon his sister heard a scuffle, and, grabbing an ax, she ran to her brother's assistance.

Finding, as she supposed, the thief on top, she struck him a fearful blow with the ax, but soon, to her horror, discovered it was her brother she had hit. His skull was crushed in and the doctors have little hope of his recovery. The burglar proved to be a junk peddler by the name of Mike Smith. He was arrested.

Aged Farmer Murdered.

AKRON, Sept. 27.—The body of Oscar Osborne, a farmer living near here, was found in his barn yesterday. He had been murdered during the night for money. He was 80 years old and very wealthy. There is no clue to the murderers.

About the dead man's neck was a rope and a strap. The murderers had evidently tried to strangle or hang him. Osborne was popularly supposed to have gold buried, and it is thought the murderers attempted to extort from him where it was concealed. Detectives are at work on the case.

WANTED AN INJUNCTION.

Judge Taft Refused to Grant One on Cleveland Strikers Without Notice.

BINGHAMTON, Sept. 27.—An application was made to Judge Taft of the United States court yesterday for a restraining order to prevent the striking workers at the Cleveland wire mill works from interfering with the employes of the company. Judge Taft refused to hear the application without notice to the parties implicated, and set the hearing for a preliminary order for Oct. 11.

More Vessels for the Coast.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—Walter S. Besse, the representative of the Atlantic Transportation company, is still in Cleveland chartering vessels to be taken to the coast. How many vessels he requires is not yet known, but he got at least four more yesterday.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

It Is Proposed to Start Oct. 10—Wants to Visit Denver.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The original plan to start the special train bearing the president and party on Oct. 10, arriving at Omaha on the evening of the following day, likely will not be changed. This arrangement allows a daylight ride through the state of Iowa.

The president is anxious to extend his trip as far westward as Denver, but owing to the time involved has not fully determined to do so. He will be in Omaha Oct. 12. It was decided to run the train through to Omaha, making practically no stop at Chicago on the out trip. Returning, the president is to be in Chicago on either Oct. 18 or 19, at the peace jubilee there. The presidential trip as now planned is likely to occupy a fortnight, though the details are not fully settled.

Major Robbins Back.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 27.—Major E. E. Robbins arrived home yesterday morning from Ponce, Porto Rico. He learned of his defeat for congress upon his arrival in New York on Saturday. He is out of politics for the present he says. He will return at the expiration of his ten day's furlough to take charge of the Mobile, now undergoing repairs in the drydock at the Brooklyn navy yard. With Admiral Schley and General Wilson of the peace commission Major Robbins went to Porto Rico in charge of the Seneca. He had in his keeping over $500,000 for the soldiers and sailors at Ponce. He visited the battlefields of Cuba and Porto Rico.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—The board of directors of the American Peace Society yesterday adopted resolutions approving the czar's disarmament circular; expressing appreciation of President McKinley's prompt endorsement of the czar's project, and declaring the time is opportune for the reopening of negotiations for a permanent treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain.

CUBANS ARE STARVING.

General Gomez Sent an Appeal For His Men—Children and Old People Dying.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Telegrams have been received at the Cuban legation from commissioners who arrived at Key West and who were sent to this country by General Gomez, the Cuban insurgent leader. These telegrams depict the situation in the province of Santa Clara as most critical. The Cuban army is said to be starving. The vegetables are almost gone and the last mules and horses have been killed to feed the sick. The children and old people are said to be dying by dozens every day.

The general appeals for aid and says his men are desperate.

The Spanish are accused of adding to their misery. They could relieve themselves by taking a town, but wish to observe the armistice declared by the United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The following cablegram was received at the war department yesterday:

FOR OPENING A LETTER

Fleet Walker Was Bound Over to Court.

HOW DISHONEST MEN ARE CAUGHT

Inspector Holmes and Inspector Owen Explain to Commissioner Richards the Methods Used In Trapping Suspects—The Case in Question.

Fleet Walker, the Cleveland and Pittsburgh mail agent who is charged with failing to walk in the straight and narrow way, was given a hearing by United States Commissioner Richards yesterday at Steubenville. The principal witnesses were Inspector Holmes and Inspector Owen.

Inspector Holmes in testifying said he made up a decoy registered letter in the presence of Inspector Owen in the Seventh Avenue hotel, Pittsburg, placing marked money in a letter and the letter in a registered paper pouch. Then he went to Uhrichsville and had it placed in a tie sack, and it was taken to Bridgeport and he watched it there until its transfer to the Cleveland and Pittsburg on which Walker worked as mail agent. Inspector Owen got the letter at Wellsville and brought it to him at Steubenville, to which place Holmes came. Holmes said they had been having losses due to registered letters being wrongly thrown, getting into tie sacks and disappearing, and they used this means of finding out where the blame lay. He said the paper pouch containing the registered letter was torn open when brought to him by Owen.

Inspector Owen told of being at Wellsville on the 16th, and he saw Walker take his registered letters to Montgomery of the main line. He got the registered letter pouch torn open on Montgomery's train and brought it to Steubenville to Holmes. Montgomery said Walker brought in his registered letters at Wellsville, and he signed for them. Walker mentioned that the inspector was on the platform, and that he still had a registered letter in his car, and he thought he had time to get it.

Walker came back bringing in a registered package and it was torn at one corner. Walker entered it on a receipt book and he signed for it. Walker endorsed the pouch and Montgomery asked him to sign as to its broken condition, which Walker did.

After further testimony Walker was held in $1,500 bond for opening the letter. Walker's friends think he has a very good case.

FUTURE FOREIGN POLICY

Saratoga Conference Committee Heard by the President.

ASSURED OF CONSIDERATION.

Memorial as to the Proper Government For Our Annexed Islands. Question of Education Considered Especially—The President Hopes For the Approval of Mankind—The Question of Home Rule.

The committee of representative Americans appointed at the Saratoga conference, held Aug. 19 and 20, to discuss and make recommendations on the future foreign policy of the country, held two sessions recently and called upon the president by appointment at the White House the other afternoon and presented an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted at that conference and a memorial amplifying the resolutions. The committee consisted of Henry Wade Rogers, president Northwestern university, Chicago; Samuel Gompers, president American Federation of Labor, Washington; W. P. Wilson, director Commercial museum, Philadelphia; Henry MacCracken, chancellor State university, New York; James J. Hooker, president board of trade, Cincinnati; Wirt W. Howe, ex-president National Bar association, New Orleans; Ralph M. Easley, secretary Civic Federation, Chicago; William A. Giles, vice president National Business league, Chicago; P. W. Meldrim, Savannah, Ga.; George McAnney, secretary National Civil Service league; J. W. Jenks, professor political economy, Cornell university; Francis B. Thurber, president National Exporters' association; Richard W. Venable, Baltimore; W. N. Kline, Philadelphia.

The president listened with interest to the reading of the memorial by Chairman Rogers and said: "Gentlemen—You came at the supreme moment. I will give the peace commissioners their final instructions, and you are here in time to have your recommendation heard and considered before that is done." The president also followed with great interest the discussion of the Saratoga conference and was sure that they had done great good throughout the country, especially commanding the committee for having given so fair a hearing to both sides and for having been able to agree on resolutions. The president, in closing a five minutes' talk to the committee, said, "I propose to do the best I can with such knowledge and light as I have and hope my acts in the matter will be approved by the deliberate judgment of mankind."

The memorial presented to the president begins by reviewing the call for the Saratoga conference and stating the purpose of the meeting, then states the resolutions adopted, beginning:

"We, the participants in the national conference on the foreign policy of the United States held at Saratoga on Aug. 19 and 20, are substantially agreed as follows: We commend the wise and patriotic course of the national administration in first seeking to avoid war with Spain and in subsequently prosecuting the war with vigor and success and bringing it to speedy conclusion, glorious to our arms and gratifying to the high aspirations of our people on behalf of freedom and human welfare. We believe that the rescued and liberated people of the surrendered islands are in a sense temporarily the wards of the conquering nation and that we should treat them as such. With our views of natural right and of the inestimable privilege of civil liberty we should not be justified in returning the conquered islands to the misrule and oppression from which we have relieved them. As soon as the islands under our present protection can be trusted to govern themselves they should be allowed home rule, either independently or as a part of the United States, as hereinafter recommended. Until such time as they may be able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States, and the question as to whether at some future period, at the mutual desire of both, they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises."

The resolutions recommend for the new territories free unsectarian schools, advocate the establishment of a graded diplomatic service, approve international arbitration, commend the president's course in refusing to grant letters of marque and favor the prohibition of privateering.

"The conference was not unmindful of the fact that the war with Spain was undertaken to give freedom to oppressed colonists, and that the government of the United States in freeing these people from their existing allegiance incurred a moral obligation to see that the new government to be established should be one which would insure protection to life, liberty and property. To that end the conference was of the opinion that the people of all surrendered islands should be considered as in a sense temporarily our wards; that the possibility of entangling alliances with other nations and of imbibed discussion with or among them could be best avoided, and the conservation of peace throughout the world could be best attained by the exercise of such protection.

"It was thought further that as soon as these people can be trusted to govern themselves they should be allowed home rule, but that until they are able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States." Emphasizing that we have not fought a war of conquest, the memorial continues: "The conference expressed no opinion as to the wisdom of ultimate annexation of these islands, but it declared its conviction that the question as to whether at some future period they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises, and that if annexation should take place it should be at the mutual desire of both peoples.

"The same large liberality in money and effort that has accomplished the physical deliverance of our neighbors should be shown in our plans for their intellectual and moral deliverance. A sum of money much less than we have spent in three months of war will sustain a magnificent educational campaign in all the surrendered territory for an entire generation, and when the total cost of this campaign shall have been paid by these islands they will be richer therefor than ever before.

"On behalf, then, of education in America we submit in addition of our Saratoga conference two suggestions in regard to particulars that may be expedient to be taken next December by congress upon the recommendation of the president:

"First.—In the exercise of our protecting power let prompt effort be made to secure an accumulation of a liberal portion of the revenues of the surrendered territories for the building of schoolhouses and the establishment of a system of elementary schools, including ample provision for the training of teachers and for industrial education.

"Second.—Let a moderate appropriation be promptly made for a thorough investigation of the subject of education in the surrendered islands. At least two special commissioners of education for these islands might be appointed, with whom the national commissioner of education should co-operate. Let these report to congress upon public schools for the new population, their report to include a careful presentation of the facts upon which their conclusions may be founded, especially the facts in regard to existing schools in the countries in question, in the neighboring republics and in the West Indies under the control of Great Britain."

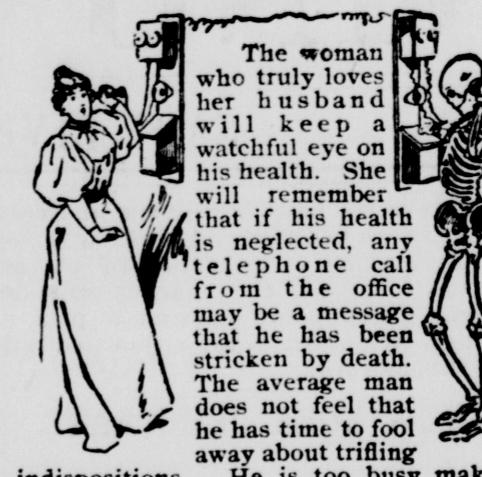

The recommendation for a graded diplomatic service is expanded with illustrations drawn from Great Britain, which, it is held, will be of great value to the commercial interests of the United States. Then: "From this commercial point of view, also, it may be urged that, while the United States has been subjected for years to the repressive fiscal policy of other nations in securing its tropical products, we now, through our protecting power over the surrendered islands, may become in large measure independent. Heretofore Spain has kept her colonies in a state of repression. Commerce, industry and enterprise have been stifled and the wealth of the islands has been exploited for the benefit of the mother country, to the great detriment of the colonists."

The president's attitude on international arbitration, outlined in his inaugural address, is commended. Referring to the protection of private property at sea in wartime, the memorial quotes many international precedents for its exemption from seizure and says: "The committee would, then, therefore recommend the abolition of the system of prize money as unequal, unjust and iniquitous in its operation, tainting patriotism with the lust of cupidity and with the immorality of gambling in the distribution made, not according to the sacrifices made and risks incurred, but according to the accident of rank. We deem it unjust to the army as well as to the naval, marine and subordinate officers, and altogether as of evil influence and example."

"We cordially indorse the precedent set by you when you refused at the beginning of the war with Spain to grant letters of marque and reprisal. We regret that your overture was not frankly and fully responded to in the same spirit by Spain, whose reservation in regard to privateering was a constant menace to our commerce and had the same practical injurious effects, in driving our commerce to seek neutral bottoms, as would have resulted from her actual resort to privateering.

"We recommend that in the treaty of peace to be concluded between the United States and Spain a stipulation be embodied, as in our treaty of 1783 with Prussia and of 1871 with Italy, binding the two nations, in the event of war between them, not to resort to privateering or the capture of merchant ships and their cargoes, whether enemy or neutral, except contraband of war or in the attempt to violate an effective blockade.

"We would respectfully recommend that such measures may be taken as shall be deemed appropriate by this government to bring about an international compact that all private property shall be exempt from capture or confiscation in time of war, on land or by sea, except in cases of recognized military necessity. Many other questions will doubtless arise at this critical period in our history, which will receive the close and sedate consideration of the government. We do not undertake to indispositions. He is too busy making money. He says he leaves sickness to the women folks.

That is the way men commit suicide—tens of thousands of them. A woman can stand between this danger and her husband if she will. A little watchfulness—a suggestion now and then and a little of a good general remedy always at hand may save her husband's life. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a remarkable remedy for hard working men and women. In a certain sense, it is a cure-all, for the reason that it goes down to bed-rock and cures the disorders that are responsible for the majority of serious illnesses. It strengthens the stomach, and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It invigorates the liver. It aids the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It makes the assimilation of the food perfect. It purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements that build new and healthy flesh tissue. It tones the nerves. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of laryngitis, bronchial, throat and kindred affections, which, if neglected, lead up to consumption. It is also an unfailing remedy for all nervous disorders. An honest dealer will not urge substitute.

"Last winter I took sick with what the doctors called la grippe," writes Mrs. Sarah Farley, of Fairfax, Atchison Co., Mo. "Was sick for about four months and nothing that I took seemed to do me any good. My friends thought I had consumption. I coughed up blood for a long while, and nearly gave up all hope of ever getting well. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and thought I would try it. I had not finished the first bottle when I began to get better. I have taken two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of the 'Favorite Prescription' and feel better than ever before in my life."

CAN'T DENY IT.

When the Facts Are Brought Home to Us, and By Our Neighbors, Too—They Are East Liverpool Facts.

A wholesome suspicion is one of our characteristics as a people. In matters worthy of investigation we want real tangible facts regarding it. The word of those we know; the nearby evidence obtainable, are generally what we most desire. When we call on a neighbor, a man of business at that, and say: "You have had some experience with so-and-so; what do you think of it?" and he answers: "Just the thing, I know, because I have tried it." It goes a long way in helping our decision. This is always the case with Doan's Kidney Pills. Everybody who has used them for any kidney complaint will tell you: "They are just the thing." Why? Because they do the work every time and in all disordered conditions of the kidneys. The proof lies with your neighbors. Many have been cured in East Liverpool, and are ready to tell you or anyone enquiring.

The majority of our citizens know that Mr. Thos. Laughlin, of 172 Sophia street, has been unable to work at his calling, that of an engineer, for two years, that his condition was serious and that little hope was entertained of a return to his old-time health and strength. Read his own account of the change that took place through using Doan's Kidney Pills. He says: "I caught cold and neglected it. Result, it settled in my back and kidneys, forced me to quit work, and almost cost me my life. I could not move without suffering and often could neither sit, stand or lie for pain. The secretions of the kidneys went wrong and distressed and annoyed me both night and day. I took medicines for two years, but did not get well. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Noticing some improvement by the time I had taken the first one-half box I continued until I took four boxes, and my back was all right as well as the urinary trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are without a doubt a grand remedy. I will endorse them at all times. I will substantiate my statement of Doan's Kidney Pills if anyone will call at my home to investigate for themselves. My wife had some backache also; she took Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers for 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

The specifications were clear and distinct as to the exact changes necessary in order to heat the building, and the cost was estimated at $240.

A motion by Stevenson, seconded by Parke, that the board bear half the expense of enlarging and remodeling the heating apparatus, provided that half is not more than $120, and, provided, the work give entire satisfaction to the board, was very freely discussed, and Mr. Myers was urged to have the work attended to promptly before the beginning of cold weather.

Passing of Summer.

With, oh, how sweet and how resigned a face
Fair summer goes unto her death! The trees
Still shine with green, and still the miser bees
Fly their old task, and still the brook doth race
With gentle music, and the garden's grace
With varied flowers is decked, and still the breeze
Is fraught with balm, and full fledged birds release
Their late learned songs, while autumn comes apace.

Soon deep shall lie the snow upon the grave
Of all dear things, and o'er our graves shall lie
With dying summer's grace may we depart
Smile in the face of that which bids us die
And look with hope upon the whelming wave
With no vain tears and with a sunny heart.

Buried at Midnight.

One of the most remarkable funerals that have ever been reported probably occurred at Brooksville, Ky., the other Sunday night. Mr. R. H. Ware, an undertaker of that city, died Friday or Saturday, and, in accordance with his wishes, expressed in the closing hours of his life, his remains were interred at midnight Sunday night. At the hour of 12 his body was gently lowered into its last resting place. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung by Miss Staton, and the impressive service closed with a few remarks and a prayer by the minister. When making the strange request, Mr. Ware gave as a reason that he had seen so much insincerity and vain display at funerals that he wanted his to be as quiet as possible.—Maysville (Ky.) Bulletin.

Passing of Summer.

With, oh, how sweet and how resigned a face

Fair summer goes unto her death! The trees

Still shine with green, and still the miser bees

Ply their old task, and still the brook doth race

With gentle music, and the garden's grace

With varied flowers is decked, and still the breeze

Is fraught with balm, and full fledged birds release

Their late learned songs, while autumn comes apace.

Soon deep shall lie the snow upon the grave

Of all dear things, and o'er our graves shall lie.

With dying summer's grace may we depart.

Smile in the face of that which bids us die

And look with hope upon the whelming wave

With no vain tears and with a sunny heart.

Buried at Midnight.

One of the most remarkable funerals that have ever been reported probably occurred at Brooksville, Ky., the other Sunday night. Mr. R. H. Ware, an undertaker of that city, died Friday or Saturday, and, in accordance with his wishes, expressed in the closing hours of his life, his remains were interred at midnight Sunday night. At the hour of 12 his body was gently lowered into its last resting place. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung by Miss Staton, and the impressive service closed with a few remarks and a prayer by the minister. When making the strange request, Mr. Ware gave as a reason that he had seen so much insincerity and vain display at funerals that he wanted his to be as quiet as possible.—Maysville (Ky.) Bulletin.

THE MAJOR'S POLITICS.

While the NEWS REVIEW would be the last to oppose the election of Major Weybrecht to congress on the ground that he is a soldier and as such has done his duty to his country and his men, it nevertheless remembers that he is a Democrat and therefore should not be elected to congress.

The major has some ideas on the silver question that are in perfect harmony with those held by Colonel Bryan. He believes in free coinage, and the other principles expounded by the gentleman from Nebraska who seems to have dropped out for the present. He is also a rampant free trader, having no sympathies with the policy of protection and believing their country should win its way without a tariff.

To place such a man in congress would be a mistake, and it would spoil a good soldier for the purpose of carrying out the plans of politicians with which Major Weybrecht cannot be enthusiastically in sympathy.

GET OUT!

There is no reason to believe that this government did not use the language of diplomatic usage when it ordered General Blanco and his forces to get out of Havana at the earliest possible date, but the order was probably one the crafty soldier will obey as soon as possible. That man Blanco has certainly acted in a manner most unbecoming his position. He has abused Americans and permitted his men to kill Cubans, knowing the while that he was virtually the prisoner of the United States. His action can only be explained in two ways. Either he is mad as a hare or he has heard of the treatment accorded other Spanish soldiers who returned to Spain. If the former be true he should be locked up, while if the latter is the case he should be deprived of the opportunity to make political capital for himself and shipped back to Spain without delay. From what is known of his personal character he deserves no consideration, and should be treated as the rowdy he really is, in spite of his gold lace and high sounding but empty title.

Samuel C. Hulimore, of Lynn, Mass., and A. F. Otis, of Boston, were in the city yesterday and today placing orders. This is their annual visit to Liverpool, and their orders are by no means small.

THE SQUIRE STEPPED IN

And There Was No Fight In His Barn.

CROSSED TO THE ISLAND

And the Contest Was Pulled Off There at an Early Hour This Morning—Then the Crowd Came Home, and It Is Doubtful if They Will Go Again.

There was to have been a prize fight last night, but not until 2:30 o'clock this morning did the men enter the ring marked on the ground with a cane carried throughout the evening by one of the party.

The battle ground was known to but few people, but as all the cars running to the Virginia side were crowded it became a settled fact that the conflict, if conflict there was to be, would take place on that side of the river.

The first car that went over contained the principals, Pete Trayner of Wilmerding, and Billie Greggins, of California, together with their friends.

When the end of the line was reached the crowd followed the leader, who led them to a barn in a large field owned by Squire Newall.

To the left of the path leading to the barn is a vineyard, and it is needless to say that at least two bushels of grapes were taken.

Greggins and his party reached the barn first, but found it locked, although it was said arrangements had been made for the event to take place there.

The crowd increased every time a car went over the river, and at 11 o'clock about 200 men and boys were at the barn.

No one seemed able to explain why the fight was being delayed, and the crowd amused themselves as best they could under the circumstances.

There was a lot of cattle in the barn and some boys entered the place and began to tease them.

While this was being done some of the crowd entered the barn.

Mr. Newell and several of his employees were at that time hidden behind a hay stack.

When about 50 men were inside, the owner and his men made a charge on the building and when he entered the building he shouted:

"You are all here for some unlawful purpose, and you may consider yourselves under arrest," and just then one of his men caught several young men.

The crowd ran from the barn in all directions like a lot of scared sheep.

The part of the crowd in the road climbed on the fence and enjoyed the race immensely.

When the field was clear Squire Newell came to the gate, and soon an argument in which all were concerned was started.

The squire was staunch, and told those who were talking most that the fight would not take place in that part of Virginia if he could help it.

He carried his point.

The men walked to Rock Spring, where they stopped and commenced to talk over sites where the fight could be pulled off.

They talked for about two hours, and at 2 o'clock started for the island.

Several skiffs were secured and at 2:15 the fight started in the presence of at least 100 people.

The first round was very tame until the last part when Greggins hit Trayner in the left side of the neck, knocking him out of the ring.

He fell on a portion of a gate and lay there for some time.

Round two was a fast one.

Greggins was the aggressor, and on several occasions had Trayner almost out.

Just before time was called Trayner received a terrific blow on the neck which put him out of the ring. He got up mad, took off the five ounce gloves and wanted to finish the contest with bare hands. This was not allowed, and the third round started. The men sparred lightly, and when time was called the referee awarded the fight to Greggins. A collection, amounting to $22.50, was taken, which was divided between the men.

The crowd returned to Liverpool about 3:30 o'clock, and rumors of a sell were numerous. It can be safely said that many days will pass before another party will gather to see a fight in this section.

TOADIX LOOKS WELL.

His Season With Minneapolis Did Him Good.

A morning paper says: "Pitcher Mercer has a batting average of .340 for this season. This is a big record for a pitcher. Next season if Mercer stays with the Washingtons, and the chances are now bright that he will, for no club will hardly pay for $5,000 for his release, he will be played in the outfield."

George McNicol played short Saturday for the Toronto team, in their game with New Cumberland, and out of three times at the bat made two hits. He also accepted five chances without an error, and the Toronto paper says:

"McNicol at short played a fast game, accepting two hot ones and throwing out his man at first."

George Carey arrived last evening from Minneapolis. He is the picture of health and says he never felt better in his life. He has been reserved by the Millers, and will probably be with them again next season unless drafted by some of the league teams.

During his career as a ball player Carey has been a member of the Baltimore, Philadelphia, Louisville, Athletic, Lancaster, Reading, Syracuse, Milwaukee and Minneapolis clubs.

The Rugby football team practiced last evening, and a large number of candidates for the eleven were present.

The Association football club failed to meet last evening, owing to the fact that a quorum was not present. An effort will be made to hold a meeting Friday evening.

HON. R. W. TAYLER

Hon. R. W. Tayler will be in town next Friday, and will attend the reception tendered Company E at Columbian park. Mr. Tayler became known to a great many of the boys while they were encamped at Camp Alger.

Alexander McGraw Will Be Buried Tomorrow In Riverview.

Alexander McGraw died yesterday at his home in Ravenna after a lingering illness, aged 55 years.

Deceased was formerly a well known resident of this city, and for 18 years was prominently identified with the business interests of the city. He removed from here to Ravenna a few months ago where he engaged in the stationery business with Frank Eckler.

While here he served one term as a member of the board of education from the Fourth ward and was chosen president of that body, fulfilling the duties of his office in a manner that won for him the respect of all citizens. On being tendered the nomination for a second term he declined owing to his rapidly failing health.

He was prominently connected with the First U. P. church of this city, and was one of the founders of the Second

U. P. church. As an earnest Christian citizen he had the respect of all who were fortunate enough to know him, and his removal to Ravenna caused a great deal of regret in the community.

During the late Rebellion he enlisted when but 18 years of age in Batttery D. First West Virginia light artillery and served throughout the war, being captured and spending nine months in Andersonville prison. He was one of the founders of the Ex-prisoners of War association in this county, and the success of the association is largely due to his efforts.

The body will arrive here tomorrow on the noon train, and the funeral will take place from the First U. P. church,

Dr. J. C. Taggart, officiating. Interment will be made at Riverview.

Roosevelt's Attention to His Men.

When the soldiers lay in their trenches exhausted almost unto death with two days of fighting and without food,

Roosevelt did not wait for food to be brought. He went out himself and for-aged for food for his men. He found a bag of dried apples at the Red Cross headquarters. He carried this bag across the burning fields on his own shoulders and distributed the food with his own hands to the soldiers in the trenches.

An officer declared that such an infringement of official dignity would not do the discipline of the army any good.

Roosevelt, it is said, replied, "D—n dignity when my men are starving."

HIS SERMONS' PREPARATION

Dr. Hall Jotted Down His Thoughts Like "Paper Sparrow Pope."

The late Dr. John Hall's method of preparing his sermons was peculiar to himself. It was his habit to write down everything he intended to say in a kind of shorthand of his own devising, using abbreviations such as B for Bible and C for church, and wd and shd for would and should. He jotted down his thoughts, like "paper sparing Pope," on the backs of old envelopes or any other scraps that came ready to hand, preferring them to sheets of paper because, in his own words, these scraps frequently suggested trains of thought to him and held a significance which is missed in formal sheets of paper.

But he never took these manuscripts into the pulpit with him. He preached without notes, using the thoughts, but not necessarily the exact words, that he had written in his study.

For many years he used to preach twice on Sunday in his own church and often delivered a third sermon or an address in another church in the evening.—New York Herald.

A Suggested Relief.

At the end of this year the government will have a war fund of $150,000,000 left over. But we need not have another war to spend it. It will just nicely dig the Nicaragua canal.—Florida Times-Union and Citizen.

SLEPT ON THE STEPS

William Garen Went to City Hall For Slumber.

GIVEN A PLACE IN PRISON

Where It Was Warmer and He Would Not Be Disturbed—He Paid a Big Price For His Downy Couch This Morning. Tim Strain Taken to Canton.

Business was very slow last night in police court and the only arrest fell to the lot of Officer Mahony.

Early in the evening William Garen started to fill himself with fire water, and when the time arrived for him to go home he was very drunk and sleepy. He wandered around the streets for some time looking for a place to rest his weary bones, and finally spied the doorway of city hall. He immediately lay down and was soon fast asleep, and did not awaken when Officer Mahony appeared on the scene. The officer decided that it would be a pity to allow the man to sleep on the hard, cold steps when a comfortable bed was so near, and accordingly Garen was awakened and put to bed in one of the cells of the city jail with the loss of only a few minutes' sleep. This morning he appeared before Mayor Bough and his honor taxed him $6.60 for his sleeping apartments, which he paid and was released.

Officer McMillan this morning took Tim Strain to the Canton workhouse where he will remain until a fine of $25 and costs is worked out. The salary at the workhouse is very small, and it will be at least 75 days before Timothy again troubles the people of this city.

SLEPT ON THE STEPS

William Garen Went to City Hall For Slumber.

GIVEN A PLACE IN PRISON

Where It Was Warmer and He Would Not Be Disturbed—He Paid a Big Price For His Downy Couch This Morning. Tim Strain Taken to Canton.

Business was very slow last night in police court and the only arrest fell to the lot of Officer Mahony.

Early in the evening William Garen started to fill himself with fire water, and when the time arrived for him to go home he was very drunk and sleepy. He wandered around the streets for some time looking for a place to rest his weary bones, and finally spied the doorway of city hall. He immediately lay down and was soon fast asleep, and did not awaken when Officer Mahony appeared on the scene. The officer decided that it would be a pity to allow the man to sleep on the hard, cold steps when a comfortable bed was so near, and accordingly Garen was awakened and put to bed in one of the cells of the city jail with the loss of only a few minutes' sleep. This morning he appeared before Mayor Bough and his honor taxed him $6.00 for his sleeping apartments, which he paid and was released.

Officer McMillan this morning took Tim Strain to the Canton workhouse where he will remain until a fine of $25 and costs is worked out. The salary at the workhouse is very small, and it will be at least 75 days before Timothy again troubles the people of this city.

POULTRY—

A WEEK OUT IN AFRICA

Consul C. E. Macrum Is Quickly Settled

IN HIS POSITION AND HOME

A Kaffir Boy Who Can Only Understand Three Words He Speaks, and a House at a Big Price Are Some of the Strange Things He Found in the Far Away City of Pretoria.

PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC, Aug. 25.—We have arrived, I guess without special incident, at the city that will be our home for a number of years, and to one coming from the northern hemisphere it presents no end of new things for consideration.

Wednesday morning, Aug. 17, when I got up I found our vessel calmly lying at anchor within gunshot of extensive docks off Cape Town. I had seen many a picture of Cape Town but had no true conception of the beauty of the place as it nestles closely under the grand Table mountain and spreads around the great Lion's Head to the north. By 9 o'clock we were up to the dock, and as I had been recommended to the Queen's hotel we went out there. It is at Sea Point, and about three miles from the docks. We found it a beautiful place, with broad lawns running down to the sea where the breakers, always roaring, are met by a solid wall of stone. Behind is the great Lion's Head, right over the hotel, and looking from the shore it presents a beautiful picture. After lunch I went to the dock to get the baggage through, and was back to the hotel at 6, ready for the excellent bed prepared.

Thursday morning I went down to the consulate and saw Colonel Stowe who was expecting me, and then went to the station and booked passage for Pretoria. Friday we were at the station at 8:30 o'clock, and had a compartment all to ourselves. There were hampers of eatables from the hotel to provide us with sustenance on the long journey. We reached Hex River Pass at 3:30 o'clock, and went up the mountains at a good grade. The scenery was fairly good, but I got to rest early in a very comfortable bed. When I awoke we were in the Karoo desert, a most desolate place with little stunted brush and cacti. After leaving DeAur we passed a number of ostrich farms with any number of birds, and reached New- port at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Here we had lunch and dinner from a novelty, the kitchen van. Saturday morning we had passed into the Orange Free State before I awoke, and at 10 o'clock we were at Vererusing where our luggage was to be examined. My passports carried me through without examination, and an hour later we reached Elando where we changed into a Pretoria coach arriving at that point about 8 o'clock.

Monday morning I spent some time looking after private affairs and securing box 952 in the postoffice. I saw Mr. Harris, of Salem, our county, and received some mail from Johannesburg. We all took a walk before dinner, and saw President Kruger's house. Tuesday we walked out to Sunnyside and saw the house we expect to take, and after lunch I called on Mr. Grobber, secretary of foreign affairs, presenting my credentials and asking for my exequatur. Mr. Jeppé, the same day, took us out to see his house at Sunnyside. We were much pleased with it. The next morning I went to a hill with two gentlemen and secured some views of the town, and at 10 o'clock met Mr. Jeppé and agreed to take his house. Mr. Carey, a United States citizen residing at Kimberley, called on me the next morning. We also took possession of our house today.

It is built as I said before at Sunnyside, on the highest point yet built, and I think the most desirable of dwelling locations in Pretoria. It is one story, there is nothing else here, built of cement with all walls solid, no lath. Two rooms are to be used as offices for me, and the remainder is the residence proper. The rent is placed at $900 a year, but conditions are far different here from what they are in our own country, and I am advised we are getting a very good house for little money. It is all furnished, and very nicely too. They can get £12.6 for a house of five rooms unfurnished, while we have in addition to the two excellent office rooms, two bed rooms, dining room, bath room, kitchen and large pantry. The dining room is a beautiful apartment. The owner pays the water rent, and we have electric light. The front and rear stoops, they have no verandas here, are wide and comfortable and built of stone. The grounds are commodious and filled with trees and pretty walks. The lot is 250x150 feet and on three sides are small cypress hedges, while that in front is of arbor vitae.

We have a Kaffir boy. He can only understand three words I say, and I cannot understand anything he says. We get along fairly well because I point to what I want, and he understands it. We will use him for scrubbing and window washing for the present and as soon as it is necessary he can look after the garden. He has been raking up the lawn today, and has proved his ability to make an improvement in its appearance.

Pretoria looked anything but inviting as we came into it. Dust covered everything thickly. You have no idea of the dust in those sections of the city where much driving is done, and of course we came into the busy section. But we soon found all Pretoria was not so bad as what we first saw of it. Sunnyside has some, and if it is very windy I presume we will have it in our house thick.

CHARLES E. MACRUM.

COL. BRYAN ILL

The Nebraskan Took Down With Malaria Fever In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Colonel William Jennings Bryan of the Third Nebraska regiment was unable to leave Washington yesterday for Jacksonville. "I have a touch of malaria," he said last evening, "and my physician told me yesterday that I would have to remain here for two or three days."

Colonel Bryan was in bed, where he passed most of the day.

Colonel Bryan expressed the reluctance with which he had admitted illness. While he is disposed to look upon his illness as trifling, it is not at all improbable that he will have to remain in Washington longer than he has been calculating to enable the fever to run its course.

PRODUCTS OF CUBA.

OPENINGS IN THE ISLAND FOR AMERICAN AGRICULTURISTS.

Garden Vegetables and Roots Can Be Produced in Plenty—Importance of the Fruit Exports—Cuba's Extensive Sugar Growing Capacity.

Rice and corn grow very well in Cuba, and the latter is one of the most important articles of food the people have. The various garden vegetables and roots can be produced in great plenty, and that part of the island opposite to Key West may become a market garden of the United States. The gardeners of the southern states, however, have a great advantage in the experience they possess and in the intelligence with which they carry on their business. That branch of agriculture has not reached a high state of excellence in Cuba, nor is it likely to do so unless foreigners engage in it. There would undoubtedly be openings in this direction for American market gardeners.

Fruit should be also one of the most important and permanent of the exports from Cuba to the United States. Baracoa has been the center of this trade, but though Santiago is more distant it is not sufficiently far removed to be unable to enter into competition. It is about as near our Atlantic ports as Port Antonia, Jamaica, from which enormous shipments of fruits are made to New York, Boston, Baltimore and other cities. With these commodities of course the time element is of the utmost importance, not so much on account of the greater cost of running the ship as owing to the deterioration of the cargo.

The sugar growing capacity of Cuba is so great that it has been claimed that it could supply the whole American continent with all the sugar required for consumption. Many of the sugar plantations are quite extensive and employ many hundreds of colored people. One of the largest is owned by an American and is situated a few miles from Havana. Previous to the outbreak of the recent insurrection a large quantity of sugar was produced annually on it, but since then the business has been gradually declining.

The installation of electric lighting in the sugar houses made it possible to keep the work going all night, as it lighted up the yard and the cane carrier as well and also the owner's house and the different offices about the premises. Some of the sugar factories on Cuban plantations have well appointed machine shops, where almost everything required in the work can be made, and a few have foundries, where brasswork and small iron castings are manufactured. Nearly all the machinery is of American construction, from the mill to the weighing scales. These mill, beam engines and other machinery are not as massive as those of English manufacture, for the simple reason that with the stronger American iron such bulk is not required.

Trade in the famous Havana tobacco from Cuba reached its greatest degree of expansion in 1898. It cannot fail to be of interest to compare the exports of tobacco for that year to the United States with those during the same period to other countries. To this country there were exported in 1898 158,814 bales, 67,492,000 cigars and 6,497,575 packages of cigarettes; to Great Britain, 929 bales, 30,868,000 cigars and 1,470 packages of cigarettes; Germany, 20,847 bales, 21,857,000 cigars and 85,430 packages of cigarettes; France, 3,832 bales, 11,080,000 cigars and 632,442 packages of cigarettes; Spain, 89,599 bales, 12,118,000 cigars and 5,988,741 packages of cigarettes; South and Central America, 209 bales, 2,544,000 cigars and 2,716,756 packages of cigarettes, and to all other countries 1,135 bales, 1,606,000 cigars and 20,709,079 packages of cigarettes.

Two facts are apparent from the foregoing figures—viz., that the United States has been by far the best customer Cuba has had for her tobacco, and that the export of unmanufactured tobacco from the island has practically ceased. In 1893 the bales of tobacco exported amounted to 227,865, in 1896 the entire export only equaled 888 bales. This enormous decline was in consequence of governmental action prohibiting sending the tobacco out of the country to be manufactured abroad and redounded greatly to the advantage of the Havana makers of cigars as well as to that of the government.

One of the largest tobacco plantations in Cuba is near Santiago. Before the insurrection broke out many hundreds of hands were employed, mostly negroes. Their cabins formed quite a little village, and after the men quit work the place would become very lively. They sang and danced and disported themselves with an abandon that was very exhilarating to behold. They began work early in the morning, and in the hot season generally suspended work for a few hours during the hottest part of the day.

Great as has been the production of tobacco in Cuba in past years its possibility of production is vastly greater, and under the new order of things about to be introduced in the island the area of the cultivation of tobacco will without doubt be very largely extended. There are fortunes to be made in the business by Americans of enterprise who feel disposed to engage in it. Owing to the troubles in Cuba and the financial embarrassments resulting therefrom many plantations will probably be for sale, and at prices which cannot fail to be favorable to the purchasers.

A WEEK OUT IN AFRICA

Consul C. E. Macrum Is Quickly Settled

IN HIS POSITION AND HOME

A Kaffir Boy Who Can Only Understand Three Words He Speaks, and a House at a Big Price Are Some of the Strange Things He Found In the Far Away City of Pretoria.

PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC, Aug. 25.—We have arrived, I guess without special incident, at the city that will be our home for a number of years, and to one coming from the northern hemisphere it presents no end of new things for consideration.

Wednesday morning, Aug. 17, when I got up I found our vessel calmly lying at anchor within gunshot of extensive docks off Cape Town. I had seen many a picture of Cape Town but had no true conception of the beauty of the place as it nestles closely under the grand Table mountain and spreads around the great Lion's Head to the north. By 9 o'clock we were up to the dock, and as I had been recommended to the Queen's hotel we went out there. It is at Sea Point, and about three miles from the docks. We found it a beautiful place, with broad lawns running down to the sea where the breakers, always roaring, are met by a solid wall of stone. Behind is the great Lion's Head, right over the hotel, and looking from the shore it presents a beautiful picture. After lunch I went to the dock to get the baggage through, and was back to the hotel at 6, ready for the excellent bed prepared.

Thursday morning I went down to the consulate and saw Colonel Stowe who was expecting me, and then went to the station and booked passage for Pretoria. Friday we were at the station at 8:30 o'clock, and had a compartment all to ourselves. There were hampers of eatables from the hotel to provide us with sustenance on the long journey. We reached Hex River Pass at 8:30 o'clock, and went up the mountains at a good grade. The scenery was fairly good, but I got to rest early in a very comfortable bed. When I awoke we were in the Karoo desert, a most desolate place with little stunted brush and cacti. After leaving DeAur we passed a number of ostrich farms with any number of birds, and reached Newport at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Here we had lunch and dinner from a novelty, the kitchen van. Saturday morning we had passed into the Orange Free State before I awoke, and at 10 o'clock we were at Vererusing where our luggage was to be examined. My passport carried me through without examination, and an hour later we reached Elando where we changed into a Pretoria coach arriving at that point about 8 o'clock.

Monday morning I spent some time looking after private affairs and securing box 952 in the postoffice. I saw Mr. Harris, of Salem, our county, and received some mail from Johannesburg. We all took a walk before dinner, and saw President Kruger's house. Tuesday we walked out to Sunnyside and saw the house we expect to take, and after lunch I called on Mr. Grobber, secretary of foreign affairs, presenting my credentials and asking for my exequatur. Mr. Jeppe, the same day, took us out to see his house at Sunnyside. We were much pleased with it. The next morning I went to a hill with two gentlemen and secured some views of the town, and at 10 o'clock met Mr. Jeppe and agreed to take his house. Mr. Carey, a United States citizen residing at Kimberly, called on me the next morning. We also took possession of our house today.

It is built as I said before at Sunnyside, on the highest point yet built, and I think the most desirable of dwelling locations in Pretoria. It is one story, there is nothing else here, built of cement with all walls solid, no lath. Two rooms are to be used as offices for me, and the remainder is the residence proper. The rent is placed at $900 a year, but conditions are far different here from what they are in our own country, and I am advised we are getting a very good house for little money. It is all furnished, and very nicely too. They can get £12.6 for a house of five rooms unfurnished, while we have in addition to the two excellent office rooms, two bed rooms, dining room, bath room, kitchen and large pantry. The dining room is a beautiful apartment. The owner pays the water rent, and we have electric light. The front and rear stoops, they have no verandas here, are wide and comfortable and built of stone. The grounds are commodious and filled with trees and pretty walks. The lot is 250x150 feet and on three sides are small cypress hedges, while that in front is of arbor vitae.

We have a Kaffir boy. He can only understand three words I say, and I cannot understand anything he says. We get along fairly well because I point to what I want, and he understands it. We will use him for scrubbing and window washing for the present and as soon as it is necessary he can look after the garden. He has been raking up the lawn today, and has proved his ability to make an improvement in its appearance.

Pretoria looked anything but inviting as we came into it. Dust covered everything thickly. You have no idea of the dust in those sections of the city where much driving is done, and of course we came into the busy section. But we soon found all Pretoria was not so bad as what we first saw of it. Sunnyside has some, and if it is very windy I presume we will have it in our house thick.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 93.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 27, 1898.

TWO CENTS

NO NEED TO HURRY.

Now That Spaniards Will Allow Supplies Landed,

EVACUATION CAN BE DELAYED.

This Will Not Throw Our Troops Into Cuba at a Time When There Is So Much Danger of Sickness—25,000 Probably Enough.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The authorities here feel, it was stated yesterday, that by consenting to the entry of the Comal with food supplies, the Spanish officials in a large measure ridged the question of evacuation of the urgency that attached to it. So long as the Cubans, starving and naked, were denied the relief that might come to them from the United States government and the Red Cross, there was a powerful reason for insisting upon the immediate evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish government officials, in order that, taking possession ourselves, we might succor the distressed Cubans. Now, however, that our government is free to do this under existing conditions, there is not the same necessity for haste, and the war department will not be obliged to force American troops in numbers into Cuba in the very worst part of the season, so far as health conditions are concerned. Even among the immune regiments at Santiago there seems to be much sickness.

It may be said that the president expects that the movement for evacuation will begin toward the latter part of October and be concluded soon after New Year. It is expected that the plan will be to place a garrison at one point after another, beginning probably at the western end of the island. The authorities have reached the conclusion, in view of the spirit shown by the Cubans as reported to it, that no more than 25,000 men will be required.

TYPHOID SPREADING.

Deaths Occurred Also at Camp Meade. Infected Regiment to Be Moved Away.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 27.—Typhoid fever is getting in its deadly work at Camp Meade. Three deaths occurred between Saturday night and yesterday morning. One was Private William Morgan, Company A, First Maryland, whose remains were shipped yesterday evening to Frederick City, Md. The others were Corporals Roy W. Johnson and August Foss, Company H, Second regiment, engineer corps.

Private J. S. Thompson of the corps reserve ambulance company, who was taken away from here by the Lancaster general hospital ten days ago, died Sunday night of typhoid. Private Draper T. Ferry, Company M, Ninth Pennsylvania, died yesterday at the Harrisburg hospital of fever contracted in the south. His body was shipped to New Albany, Bradford county. Private Benjamin Dirlouiner, Company M, Tenth Ohio, was struck by lightning and instantly killed last evening during a heavy rain storm, while guarding the tent of a military tailor. Dirlouiner's home is at Cincinnati.

The disease is spreading so rapidly in the Two Hundred and Third New York that the regiment will be sent away as soon as a suitable camping ground is found. The engineers were hunting for a site yesterday, and it is probable that the troops will be isolated in the Conewago hills in the vicinity of Elizabethtown. New tents will be issued to them and extra precautions taken to confine the disease to this command.

A trainload of typhoid patients was taken to Philadelphia hospitals last evening by a Red Cross train. This society is taking excellent care of the sick in its hospital here, and has secured the services of a specialist to treat the typhoid cases. The patients are cared for by trained female nurses assisted by details from the reserve ambulance corps. Chief Surgeon Girard will continue to send the sick to hospitals as fast as they can be moved with safety. Patients are being furloughed from the two division hospitals whenever they are able to travel alone.

Colonel Girard has received permission from Surgeon General Sternburg to employ additional contract surgeons. There is comparatively little sickness in the corps outside of the New York regiments.

The order consolidating the Fifteenth Pennsylvania regiment and the Ninth Ohio colored battalion has been revoked, and they will remain separate and distinct.

The ladies of the Soldiers' Rest at Harrisburg have received a large donation from the people of Wilmington, Del., of such things as will be a great help to them in feeding the hundreds of soldiers who visit the rooms of the association.

Trial by Court-martial.

DENVER, Sept. 27.—The trial of Chaplain Joseph P. McIntyre of the battleship Oregon, by court-martial, for the alleged use of language unbecoming an officer of the navy and calculated to destroy the good order and discipline of the navy during the delivery of a lecture in Denver, Aug. 8, was begun yesterday. The motion of his attorney to quash the charges was denied. The prisoner entered a plea of not guilty and the court adjourned until this morning.

Friends of Different Candidates Booming Them For the Convention Tomorrow.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Many of the 450 delegates to the Democratic state convention tomorrow were here last night. Each candidate for a place upon the state ticket is well represented.

Among the first upon the ground was the Erie county delegation, and the gubernatorial boom of Justice Robert C. Titus was among the earliest to be launched here. Mayor James K. McGuire's friends are naturally numerous and enthusiastic in his home town. Some of the Tammany men are here talking of Mayor Van Wyck's candidacy. His chances, however, received a setback last night when members of the Erie county delegation announced that Mr. Croker had stated to them that the candidate for governor would not be named from territory south of Albany.

The first gubernatorial candidate to arrive here was Congressman William Sulzer. The next to arrive was John B. Stanchfield of Elmira. Elliott Danforth's friends are here in large force.

Roosevelt Likely the Nominee.

SARATOGA, Sept. 27.—There was hardly an impartial observer here last night who did not believe that the ticket to be nominated by the Republican state convention today will be headed by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for governor and Timothy L. Woodruff for lieutenant governor.

ADMIRER OF LINCOLN.

One of Aguinaldo's Representatives Visited His Statue in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Major General Francis V. Greene of the American army of invasion of the Philippines and Senor Felipe Angoncillo, vice president of Aguinaldo's revolutionary government, arrived in Chicago yesterday enroute to Washington.

Senor Angoncillo, at his own request, was driven to Lincoln park to see the big bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, who, the Philippine statesman said, was his ideal American statesman and citizen.

"In all my studies I have paid the most attention to the growth of the power and influence of this United States government," said Senor Angoncillo. He further said in part: "It is my ideal of a government, and it is the pattern which the Philippine people will follow when they are independent."

General Greene expressed a very high opinion of the Philippines as men and fighters.

CHANGED TO MANSLAUGHTER.

Alleged Confession of Oxley Regarding the Affair With Miss Gill.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 27.—The complaint against Oxley and Guernsey, in the Emma Gill case, was changed yesterday from attempt to procure an abortion to that of manslaughter.

The brother of Harry Oxley said that when Harry was arrested his mother told him to tell the whole truth in the case, and this is his story in substance:

Emma Gill told him of her condition and he told Guernsey, and the latter told him to marry the girl. He went to Emma Gill and expressed his willingness to marry her. She said she knew Dr. Guilford and that she could cure her of her trouble by an operation. She did not wish to marry him because there was another fellow (Foster) who wanted to marry her and did not know her true character. She considered him a better catch.

LOAN COMPANY IN TROUBLE.

Had Too Much Money Out on Western Boom Town Property.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Otto T. Barnard of 30 Broad street was yesterday appointed receiver of the New England Loan and Trust company by Judge Shipman of the United States circuit court, on a suit brought by the Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia and Sabillion S. Allen of St. Albans, Vt.

The firm dealt in city and farm mortgages in the west. Its last printed statement showed a surplus of $100,000. The receiver's bond is fixed at $75,000.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27.—The company is said to hold $5,000,000 in loans and to have $175,000 cash on hand. The receivership is said to have been forced by the company's inability to close on loans made in 1888 and 1889 on western boom town property, most of which is said to be in Omaha, and which has proven a loss.

FANNY DAVENPORT DEAD.

DUXBURY, Mass., Sept. 27.—Fanny Davenport (Mrs. Melbourne McDowell) the actress, died at her summer home, Melbourne Hall, last night of enlargement of the heart.

Weather Forecast.

LIKELY FATAL BLOW.

Sister Struck Her Brother by Mistake, Near Kenton.

THOUGHT HE WAS CHICKEN THIEF.

Hit Him With an Ax—His Skull Was Crushed—The Real Culprit Proved to Be a Junkdealer by the Name of Mike Smith.

KENTON, O., Sept. 27.—George Charlton, living two miles east of town, will probably lose his life through a strange accident. Hearing a noise in his chicken coop about midnight Sunday night he went out to investigate. Soon his sister heard a scuffle, and, grabbing an ax, she ran to her brother's assistance.

Finding, as she supposed, the thief on top, she struck him a fearful blow with the ax, but soon, to her horror, discovered it was her brother she had hit. His skull was crushed in and the doctors have little hope of his recovery. The burglar proved to be a junk peddler by the name of Mike Smith. He was arrested.

Aged Farmer Murdered.

AKRON, Sept. 27.—The body of Oscar Osborne, a farmer living near here, was found in his barn yesterday. He had been murdered during the night for money. He was 80 years old and very wealthy. There is no clue to the murderers.

About the dead man's neck was a rope and a strap. The murderers had evidently tried to strangle or hang him. Osborne was popularly supposed to have gold buried, and it is thought the murderers attempted to extort from him where it was concealed. Detectives are at work on the case.

WANTED AN INJUNCTION.

Judge Taft Refused to Grant One on Cleveland Strikers Without Notice.

BINGHAMTON, Sept. 27.—An application was made to Judge Taft of the United States court yesterday for a restraining order to prevent the striking workers at the Cleveland wire mill works from interfering with the employees of the company. Judge Taft refused to hear the application without notice to the parties implicated, and set the hearing for a preliminary order for Oct. 11.

More Vessels for the Coast.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—Walter S. Besse, the representative of the Atlantic Transportation company, is still in Cleveland chartering vessels to be taken to the coast. How many vessels he requires is not yet known, but he got at least four more yesterday.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

It Is Proposed to Start Oct. 10—Wants to Visit Denver.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The original plan to start the special train bearing the president and party on Oct. 10, arriving at Omaha on the evening of the following day, likely will not be changed. This arrangement allows a daylight ride through the state of Iowa.

The president is anxious to extend his trip as far westward as Denver, but owing to the time involved has not fully determined to do so. He will be in Omaha Oct. 12. It was decided to run the train through to Omaha, making practically no stop at Chicago on the out trip. Returning, the president is to be in Chicago on either Oct. 18 or 19, at the peace jubilee there. The presidential trip as now planned is likely to occupy a fortnight, though the details are not fully settled.

$2,000,000 STEEL MILL.

One to Be Built by the Bessemer Furnace Company at Sharon, Pa.

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 27.—The Bessemer Furnace company of the Mahoning and Shenango valley will build a $2,000,000 steel mill.

The plant will be built large enough to utilize the product of the 18 furnaces comprising the association.

Major Robbins Back.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 27.—Major E. E. Robbins arrived home yesterday morning from Ponce, Porto Rico. He learned of his defeat for congress upon his arrival in New York on Saturday. He is out of politics for the present he says. He will return at the expiration of his ten day's furlough to take charge of the Mobile, now undergoing repairs in the drydock at the Brooklyn navy yard. With Admiral Schley and General Wilson of the peace commission Major Robbins went to Porto Rico in charge of the Seneca. He had in his keeping over $500,000 for the soldiers and sailors at Ponce. He visited the battlefields of Cuba and Porto Rico.

Urged Arbitration Treaty.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—The board of directors of the American Peace society yesterday adopted resolutions approving the czar's disarmament circular: expressing appreciation of President McKinley's prompt endorsement of the czar's project, and declaring the time is opportune for the reopening of negotiations for a permanent treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain.

CUBANS ARE STARVING.

General Gomez Sent an Appeal For His Men—Children and Old People Dying.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Telegrams have been received at the Cuban legation from commissioners who arrived at Key West and who were sent to this country by General Gomez, the Cuban insurgent leader. These telegrams depict the situation in the province of Santa Clara as most critical. The Cuban army is said to be starving. The vegetables are almost gone and the last mules and horses have been killed to feed the sick. The children and old people are said to be dying by dozens every day.

The general appeals for aid and says his men are desperate.

The Spanish are accused of adding to their misery. They could relieve themselves by taking a town, but wish to observe the armistice declared by the United States.

NINETEEN DEATHS.

Otis Reported That Many In September. 23 in August—Sick Reports Exaggerated.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The following cablegram was received at the war department yesterday:

"MANILA, Sept. 26.

Adjutant General, Washington:

"Understand reporters send exaggerated accounts of sickness. Total in hospital today, highest of any day, 529; typhoid fever patients, 95; all doing well and mostly convalescent; about 1,200 excused from duty; mostly slight ailments, showing condition fair for this latitude. Nineteen deaths from disease this month; 23 in August.

"OTIS, Commanding."

TOTAL SICK, 2,509.

Gen. Brooke Thinks Only Certain Sick Should Be Sent Home From Porto Rico.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—A cable was received at the war department from General Brooke, dated Ponce, Sept. 25, saying in part:

"Cable regarding sickness and want of rations received. That there are sick is a fact. A small proportion are bad cases, but there has been no want of food. The last report gives total of sick, 2,509. Four hundred typhoid and 498 malarial fever; 297 diarrhoea. Other diseases, 1,314. Percentage, 23.

"Think return of regiments now here would not be advisable, as others coming would have to go through same acclimating condition. Would advise that certain sick be sent home whose recovery would doubtless be quickened."

The storm passed right across the town and disappeared in a northerly direction. Dozens of houses were wrecked, and many streets are littered with fallen trees, telegraph and trolley poles. Great stretches of wooden sidewalk were torn up on some streets. Samuel Monette, a milk wagon driver, was caught in the storm. His rig was rushed along the street at lightning speed until wrecked. Monette is believed to be badly injured.

Mrs. Charles Peters and Mrs. Henry Peters, the latter carrying an infant, were picked up and hurled violently against a building. Both women were picked up unconscious. It is estimated that the damage to property will reach $100,000.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27.—The Piccadilly club of this city, an organization of leading business men, had on exhibition at their meeting last night the loving cup which its executive committee has provided to be presented to Rear Adm. Admiral Dewey. The club invited the officers of the Sixth regular infantry regiment to attend as guests, and the dinner was made one of thorough patriotic rejoicing over the glory of the army and the navy.

The base of the cup represents the ocean out of which rises Neptune, bearing instead of his trident a sin-inshell. FOR OPENING A LETTER

Fleet Walker Was Bound Over to Court.

HOW DISHONEST MEN ARE CAUGHT

Inspector Holmes and Inspector Owen Explain to Commissioner Richards the Methods Used In Trapping Suspects—The Case In Question.

Fleet Walker, the Cleveland and Pittsburg mail agent who is charged with failing to walk in the straight and narrow way, was given a hearing by United States Commissioner Richards yesterday at Steubenville. The principal witnesses were Inspector Holmes and Inspector Owen.

Inspector Holmes in testifying said he made up a decoy registered letter in the presence of Inspector Owen in the Seventh Avenue hotel, Pittsburg, placing marked money in a letter and the letter in a registered paper pouch. Then he went to Uhrichsville and had it placed in a tie sack, and it was taken to Bridgeport and he watched it there until its transfer to the Cleveland and Pittsburg on which Walker worked as mail agent. Inspector Owen got the letter at Wellsville and brought it to him at Steubenville, to which place Holmes came. Holmes said they had been having losses due to registered letters being wrongly thrown, getting into tie sacks and disappearing, and they used this means of finding out where the blame lay. He said the paper pouch containing the registered letter was torn open when brought to him by Owen.

Inspector Owen told of being at Wellsville on the 16th, and he saw Walker take his registered letters to Montgomery of the main line. He got the registered letter pouch torn open on Montgomery's train and brought it to Steubenville to Holmes. Montgomery said Walker brought in his registered letters at Wellsville, and he signed for them. Walker mentioned that the inspector was on the platform, and that he still had a registered letter in his car, and he thought he had time to get it.

Walker came back bringing in a registered package and it was torn at one corner. Walker entered it on a receipt book and he signed for it. Walker endorsed the pouch and Montgomery asked him to sign as to its broken condition, which Walker did.

After further testimony Walker was held in $1,500 bond for opening the letter. Walker's friends think he has a very good case.

FUTURE FOREIGN POLICY

Saratoga Conference Committee Heard by the President.

ASSURED OF CONSIDERATION.

Memorial as to the Proper Government For Our Annexed Islands. Question of Education Considered Especially—The President Hopes For the Approval of Mankind—The Question of Home Rule.

The committee of representative Americans appointed at the Saratoga conference, held Aug. 19 and 20, to discuss and make recommendations on the future foreign policy of the country, held two sessions recently and called upon the president by appointment at the White House the other afternoon and presented an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted at that conference and a memorial amplifying the resolutions. The committee consisted of Henry Wade Rogers, president Northwestern university, Chicago; Samuel Gompers, president American Federation of Labor, Washington; W. P. Wilson, director Commercial museum, Philadelphia; Henry MacCracken, chancellor State university, New York; James J. Hooker, president board of trade, Cincinnati; Wirt W. Howe, ex-president National Bar association, New Orleans; Ralph M. Easley, secretary Civic Federation, Chicago; William A. Giles, vice-president National Business league, Chicago; P. W. Meldrim, Savannah, Ga.; George McAnney, secretary National Civil Service league; J. W. Jenks, professor political economy, Cornell university; Francis B. Thurber, president National Exporters' association; Richard W. Venable, Baltimore; W. N. Kline, Philadelphia.

The president listened with interest to the reading of the memorial by Chairman Rogers and said: "Gentlemen—You came at the supreme moment. I will give the peace commissioners their final instructions, and you are here in time to have your recommendation heard and considered before that is done." The president also followed with great interest the discussion of the Saratoga conference and was sure that they had done great good throughout the country, especially commanding the committee for having given so fair a hearing to both sides and for having been able to agree on resolutions. The president, in closing a five minutes' talk to the committee, said, "I propose to do the best I can with such knowledge and light as I have and hope my acts in the matter will be approved by the deliberate judgment of mankind."

The memorial presented to the president begins by reviewing the call for the Saratoga conference and stating the purpose of the meeting, then states the resolutions adopted, beginning:

"We, the participants in the national conference on the foreign policy of the United States held at Saratoga on Aug. 19 and 20, are substantially agreed as follows: We commend the wise and patriotic course of the national administration in first seeking to avoid war with Spain and in subsequently prosecuting the war with vigor and success and bringing it to a speedy conclusion, glorious to our arms and gratifying to the high aspirations of our people on behalf of freedom and human welfare. We believe that the rescued and liberated people of the surrendered islands are in a sense temporarily the wards of the conquering nation and that we should treat them as such. With our views of natural right and of the inestimable privilege of civil liberty we should not be justified in returning the conquered islands to the misrule and oppression from which we have relieved them. As soon as the islands under our present protection can be trusted to govern themselves they should be allowed home rule, either independently or as a part of the United States, as hereinafter recommended. Until such time as they may be able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States, and the question as to whether at some future period, at the mutual desire of both, they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises."

The resolutions recommend for the new territories free unsectarian schools, advocate the establishment of a graded diplomatic service, approve international arbitration, commend the president's course in refusing to grant letters of marque and favor the prohibition of privateering and continue:

"The conference was not unmindful of the fact that the war with Spain was undertaken to give freedom to oppressed colonists, and that the government of the United States in freeing these people from their existing allegiance incurred a moral obligation to see that the new government to be established should be one which would insure protection to life, liberty and property. To that end the conference was of the opinion that the people of all surrendered islands should be considered as in a sense temporarily our wards; that the possibility of entangling alliances with other nations and of imbibed discussion with or among them could be best avoided, and the conservation of peace throughout the world could be best attained by the exercise of such protection."

"We recommend that in the treaty of peace to be concluded between the United States and Spain a stipulation be embodied, as in our treaty of 1783 with Prussia and of 1871 with Italy, binding the two nations, in the event of war between them, not to resort to privateering or the capture of merchant ships and their cargoes, whether enemy or neutral, except contraband of war or in the attempt to violate an effective blockade."

"We would respectfully recommend that such measures may be taken as shall be deemed appropriate by this government to bring about an international compact that all private property shall be exempt from capture or confiscation in time of war, on land or by sea, except in cases of recognized military necessity. Many other questions will doubtless arise at this critical period in our history, which will receive the close and sedate consideration of the government. We do not undertake to

"It was thought further that as soon as these people can be trusted to govern themselves they should be allowed home rule, but that until they are able to govern themselves they should continue under the protection of the United States." Emphasizing that we have not fought a war of conquest, the memorial continues: "The conference expressed no opinion as to the wisdom of ultimate annexation of these islands, but it declared its conviction that the question as to whether at some future period they should be permanently annexed should be left to the time when it arises, and that if annexation should take place it should be at the mutual desire of both peoples."

"The same large liberality in money and effort that has accomplished the physical deliverance of our neighbors should be shown in our plans for their intellectual and moral deliverance. A sum of money much less than we have spent in three months of war will sustain a magnificent educational campaign in all the surrendered territory for an entire generation, and when the total cost of this campaign shall have been paid by these islands they will be richer than ever before."

"On behalf, then, of education in America we submit in addition of our Saratoga conference two suggestions in regard to particulars that may be expedient to be taken next December by congress upon the recommendation of the president:

"First.—In the exercise of our protecting power let prompt effort be made to secure an accumulation of a liberal portion of the revenues of the surrendered territories for the building of schoolhouses and the establishment of a system of elementary schools, including ample provision for the training of teachers and for industrial education.

"Second.—Let a moderate appropriation be promptly made for a thorough investigation of the subject of education in the surrendered islands. At least two special commissioners of education for these islands might be appointed, with whom the national commissioner of education should co-operate. Let these report to congress upon public schools for the new population, their report to include a careful presentation of the facts upon which their conclusions may be founded, especially the facts in regard to existing schools in the countries in question, in the neighboring republics and in the West Indies under the control of Great Britain."

The recommendation for a graded diplomatic service is expanded with illustrations drawn from Great Britain, which, it is held, will be of great value to the commercial interests of the United States. Then: "From this commercial point of view, also, it may be urged that, while the United States has been subjected for years to the repressive fiscal policy of other nations in securing its tropical products, we now, through our protecting power over the surrendered islands, may become in large measure independent. Heretofore Spain has kept her colonies in a state of repression. Commerce, industry and enterprise have been stifled and the wealth of the islands has been exploited for the benefit of the mother country, to the great detriment of the colonists."

The president's attitude on international arbitration, outlined in his inaugural address, is commended. Referring to the protection of private property at sea in wartime, the memorial quotes many international precedents for its exemption from seizure and says:

"The committee would, then, therefore recommend the abolition of the system of prize money as unequal, unjust and iniquitous in its operation, tainting patriotism with the lust of cupidity and with the immorality of gambling in the distribution made, not according to the sacrifices made and risks incurred, but according to the accident of rank. We deem it unjust to the army as well as to the naval, marine and subordinate officers, and altogether as of evil influence and example."

"We cordially indorse the precedent set by you when you refused at the beginning of the war with Spain to grant letters of marque and reprisal. We regret that your overture was not frankly and fully responded to in the same spirit by Spain, whose reservation in regard to privateering was a constant menace to our commerce and had the same practical injurious effects, in driving our commerce to seek neutral bottoms, as would have resulted from her actual resort to privateering."

"We recommend that in the treaty of peace to be concluded between the United States and Spain a stipulation be embodied, as in our treaty of 1783 with Prussia and of 1871 with Italy, binding the two nations, in the event of war between them, not to resort to privateering or the capture of merchant ships and their cargoes, whether enemy or neutral, except contraband of war or in the attempt to violate an effective blockade."

"We would respectfully recommend that such measures may be taken as shall be deemed appropriate by this government to bring about an international compact that all private property shall be exempt from capture or confiscation in time of war, on land or by sea, except in cases of recognized military necessity. Many other questions will doubtless arise at this critical period in our history, which will receive the close and sedate consideration of the government. We do not undertake to

Fighting For Peace.

The first of the universal peace negotiations threatens to be a quarrel between the czar and the kaiser as to which shall be at the head of the movement.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The woman who truly loves her husband will keep a watchful eye on his health. She will remember that if his health is neglected, any telephone call from the office may be a message that he has been stricken by death. The average man does not feel that he has time to fool away about trifling indispositions. He says he leaves sickness to the women folks.

That is the way men commit suicides of thousands of them. A woman can stand between this danger and her husband if she will. A little watchfulness—a suggestion now and then and a little of a good general remedy always at hand may save her husband's life. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a remarkable remedy for hard working men and women. In a certain sense, it is a cure-all, for the reason that it goes down to bed-rock and cures the disorders that are responsible for the majority of serious illnesses. It strengthens the stomach, and makes the appetite keen and hearty. It invigorates the liver. It aids the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It makes the assimilation of the food perfect. It purifies the blood and fills it with the life-giving elements that build new and healthy flesh tissue. It tones the nerves. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent of all cases of laryngial, bronchial, throat and kindred affections, which, if neglected, lead up to consumption. It is also an unfailing remedy for all nervous disorders. An honest dealer will not urge a substitute.

"Last winter I took sick with what the doctors called la grippe," writes Mrs. Sarah Farley, of Fairfax, Atchison Co., Mo. "I was sick for about four months and nothing that I took seemed to do me any good. My friends thought I had consumption. I coughed up blood for a long while, and nearly gave up all hope of ever getting well. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and thought I would try it. I had not finished the first bottle when I began to get better. I have taken two bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and one of the 'Favorite Prescription' and feel better than ever before in my life."

CAN'T DENY IT.

When the Facts Are Brought Home to Us, and By Our Neighbors, Too—They Are East Liverpool Facts.

A wholesome suspicion is one of our characteristics as a people. In matters worthy of investigation we want real tangible facts regarding it. The word of those we know; the nearby evidence obtainable, are generally what we most desire. When we call on a neighbor, a man of business at that, and say: "You have had some experience with so-and-so; what do you think of it?" and he answers: "Just the thing, I know, because I have tried it." It goes a long way in helping our decision. This is always the case with Doan's Kidney Pills. Everybody who has used them for any kidney complaint will tell you: "They are just the thing." Why? Because they do the work every time and in all disordered conditions of the kidneys. The proof lies with your neighbors. Many have been cured in East Liverpool, and are ready to tell you or anyone enquiring.

The majority of our citizens know that Mr. Thos. Laughlin, of 172 Sophia street, has been unable to work at his calling, that of an engineer, for two years, that his condition was serious and that little hope was entertained of a return to his old-time health and strength. Read his own account of the change that took place through using Doan's Kidney Pills. He says: "I caught cold and neglected it. Result, it settled in my back and kidneys, forced me to quit work, and almost cost me my life. I could not move without suffering and often could neither sit, stand or lie for pain. The secretions of the kidneys went wrong and distressed and annoyed me both night and day. I took medicines for two years, but did not get well. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. Noticing some improvement by the time I had taken the first one-half box I continued until I took four boxes, and my back was all right as well as the urinary trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills are without a doubt a grand remedy. I will endorse them at all times. I will substantiate my statement of Doan's Kidney Pills if anyone will call at my home to investigate for themselves. My wife had some backache also; she took Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers for 50 cents per box. By mail on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Improvement Company Is After Money

Board of Education Decide to Adhere to the Law In Paying Teachers' Salaries. West End Heating Apparatus to Be Arranged—All the News.

A meeting was held at the council chamber yesterday at 2 o'clock, by the board of directors of the Wellsville Improvement company. It was not a large meeting, but a quorum was present. An executive committee, composed of T. H. Silver, Judge Smith, E. G. Whitaker, J. N. Turner and Daniel McLean, was elected. The first and immediate duty that will come before this committee will be devising ways and means of raising money, and to lay the matter before the city council concerning the increase of some of the mains of the water works, with which to supply some of our new industries. Next Monday is the regular meeting of council, at which time, doubtless, these matters will be arranged. P. H. White sent in his resignation as member of the board of directors, alleging that his other duties were so pressing that he had no time to give to the new company.

School Board Meeting.

All the members of the school board were present at last night's meeting except Doctor Rex and Doctor Hutcheson. The salary of all of the teachers and janitors for the month of September and other approved bills were ordered paid.

The question of paying teachers who were ill during school days and for whom no substitute was supplied was discussed. The custom has been to provide a substitute and pay to her from the regular teacher's salary. Hereafter the legal requirements will be steadily adhere to.

A motion was made by Mr. Parke that the salary of Janitor D. Tarr be increased to $35 per month.

Lyth moved and it was ordered that Miss Myra Johnston be employed by the board to take care of the third floor and the superintendent and board rooms at a salary of $15 per month.

An agent with school supplies was heard, and four new maps of the United States were purchased for $2.50 each.

J. W. Myers, one of the bondsmen of William Wooster, was present, and a letter was read from D. R. McCallum, vice president of the Novelty Iron company of Canton, giving his estimate of the cost of remodeling the heating system of the West End school. The specifications were clear and distinct as to the exact changes necessary in order to heat the building, and the cost was estimated at $240.

A motion by Stevenson, seconded by Parke, that the board bear half the expense of enlarging and remodeling the heating apparatus, provided that half is not more than $120, and, provided, the work give entire satisfaction to the board, was very freely discussed, and Mr. Myers was urged to have the work attended to promptly before the beginning of cold weather.

It Was Settled.

After Joseph Thorn had been killed on the siding at the rolling mill W. C. Fraser, administrator of his estate, filed a suit in the United States court at Cleveland asking $10,000 for his death.

The company at first manifested a disposition to fight the matter, but a settlement was recently reached. The amount paid by the company has not been given out.

Passing of Summer.

With, oh, how sweet and how resigned a face

Fair summer goes unto her death! The trees

Still shine with green, and still the miser bees

Ply their old task, and still the brook doth race

With gentle music, and the garden's grace

With varied flowers is decked, and still the breeze

Is fraught with balm, and full fledged birds release

Their late learned songs, while autumn comes apace.

Soon deep shall lie the snow upon the grave

Of all dear things, and o'er our graves shall lie.

With dying summer's grace may we depart,

Smile in the face of that which bids us die

And look with hope upon the whelming wave

With no vain tears and with a sunny heart.

Buried at Midnight.

One of the most remarkable funerals that have ever been reported probably occurred at Brooksville, Ky., the other Sunday night. Mr. R. H. Ware, an undertaker of that city, died Friday or Saturday, and, in accordance with his wishes, expressed in the closing hours of his life, his remains were interred at midnight Sunday night. At the hour of 12 his body was gently lowered into its last resting place. "Nearer, My God, to Thee," was sung by Miss Staton, and the impressive service closed with a few remarks and a prayer by the minister.

When making the strange request, Mr. Ware gave as a reason that he had seen so much insincerity and vain display at funerals that he wanted his to be as quiet as possible.—Maysville (Ky.) Bulletin.

THE MAJOR'S POLITICS.

While the NEWS REVIEW would be the last to oppose the election of Major Weybrecht to congress on the ground that he is a soldier and as such has done his duty to his country and his men, it nevertheless remembers that he is a Democrat and therefore should not be elected to congress.

The major has some ideas on the silver question that are in perfect harmony with those held by Colonel Bryan. He believes in free coinage, and the other principles expounded by the gentleman from Nebraska who seems to have dropped out for the present. He is also a rampant free trader, having no sympathies with the policy of protection and believing their country should win its way without a tariff.

To place such a man in congress would be a mistake, and it would spoil a good soldier for the purpose of carrying out the plans of politicians with which Major Weybrecht cannot be enthusiastically in sympathy.

GET OUT!

There is no reason to believe that this government did not use the language of diplomatic usage when it ordered General Blanco and his forces to get out of Havana at the earliest possible date, but the order was probably one the crafty soldier will obey as soon as possible. That man Blanco has certainly acted in a manner most unbecoming his position. He has abused Americans and permitted his men to kill Cubans, knowing the while that he was virtually the prisoner of the United States. His action can only be explained in two ways. Either he is mad as a hare or he has heard of the treatment accorded other Spanish soldiers who returned to Spain. If the former be true he should be locked up, while if the latter is the case he should be deprived of the opportunity to make political capital for himself and shipped back to Spain without delay. From what is known of his personal character he deserves no consideration, and should be treated as the rowdy he really is, in spite of his gold lace and high sounding but empty title.

READY FOR THE DAY

How Company E Will Be Entertained.

THE PROGRAM OF SPORTS

Horse and Bicycle Races Will Lead, and the Soldiers Will Drill—There Will be Abundant Music and Everybody Will Have a Good Time.

The committee having in charge the reception to be given Company E next Friday, at Columbian park, met last evening in the office of Col. John N. Taylor, and perfected all arrangements.

The potteries and business houses of the city will close at noon and the day will be made one long to be remembered in the history of the city. The committee decided to issue a statement to the public and it is as follows:

"General people's picnic at Columbian park Friday, September 30, 1898, given as an entertainment and reception for Company E, Eighth regiment, O. V. I.

"Believing that the community will regard it as a pleasure in being granted the privilege of attesting their sincere regard for our soldiers, in the coming reception and entertainment, and in order to give them a feast long to be remembered, it is desired that each family in town and neighboring vicinity, will bring or send a well filled basket, to be delivered to the table committee on ground, not later than 10 o'clock Friday morning, or where it is not convenient to deliver the baskets they can be left at Mr. Hassey's store on Washington street (opposite the First National bank) previous to 10 o'clock, and they will be taken to the ground by street car. The contents of the baskets thus contributed will be used by the table committee in setting a table for Company E's dinner.

"While the dinner is progressing, those desiring can spread their dinner in the grove, singly or collectively, in regular basket picnic style, being particular to invite strangers from a distance to participate with them.

"Sugar, coffee and milk will be provided by the committee.

"Each basket should have a card attached, giving the owner's name and residence.

"It is expected that the contributions will be ample for the dinner, hence there will be no outside solicitation for this purpose.

"The dinner committee will consist of the Red Cross society and Woman's Relief Corps, assisted by the Sons of Veterans. General Lyon Post, G. A. R., will act as escort to Company E to dinner.

"Aside from the dinner, it is the purpose of the committee to give an entertainment, in the way of amusements, that will be gratifying as well as entertaining.

"A cordial invitation is extended to the people of the surrounding towns and country. COMMITTEE."

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

AN HONORED CITIZEN.

Alexander McGraw Will Be Buried Tomorrow In Riverview.

Alexander McGraw died yesterday at his home in Ravenna after a lingering illness, aged 55 years.

Deceased was formerly a well known resident of this city, and for 18 years was prominently identified with the business interests of the city. He removed from here to Ravenna a few months ago where he engaged in the stationery business with Frank Eckler.

While here he served one term as a member of the board of education from the Fourth ward and was chosen president of that body, fulfilling the duties of his office in a manner that won for him the respect of all citizens. On being tendered the nomination for a second term he declined owing to his rapidly failing health.

He was prominently connected with the First U. P. church of this city, and was one of the founders of the Second U. P. church. As an earnest Christian citizen he had the respect of all who were fortunate enough to know him, and his removal to Ravenna caused a great deal of regret in the community.

During the late Rebellion he enlisted when but 18 years of age in Battery D, First West Virginia light artillery and served throughout the war, being captured and spending nine months in Andersonville prison. He was one of the founders of the Ex-prisoners of War association in this county, and the success of the association is largely due to his efforts.

The body will arrive here tomorrow on the noon train, and the funeral will take place from the First U. P. church, Dr. J. C. Taggart, officiating. Interment will be made at Riverview.

ROOSEVELT'S ATTENTION TO HIS MEN.

When the soldiers lay in their trenches exhausted almost unto death with two days of fighting and without food, Roosevelt did not wait for food to be brought. He went out himself and foraged for food for his men. He found a bag of dried apples at the Red Cross headquarters. He carried this bag across the burning fields on his own shoulders and distributed the food with his own hands to the soldiers in the trenches. An officer declared that such an infringement of official dignity would not do the discipline of the army any good. Roosevelt, it is said, replied, "D—n dignity when my men are starving."

HIS SERMONS' PREPARATION

Dr. Hall Jotted Down His Thoughts Like "Paper Sparing Pope."

The late Dr. John Hall's method of preparing his sermons was peculiar to himself. It was his habit to write down everything he intended to say in a kind of shorthand of his own devising, using abbreviations such as B for Bible and C for church, and wd and shd for would and should. He jotted down his thoughts, like "paper sparing Pope," on the backs of old envelopes or any other scraps that came ready to hand, preferring them to sheets of paper because, in his own words, these scraps frequently suggested trains of thought to him and held a significance which he missed in formal sheets of paper.

But he never took these manuscripts into the pulpit with him. He preached without notes, using the thoughts, but not necessarily the exact words, that he had written in his study. For many years he used to preach twice on Sunday in his own church and often delivered a third sermon or an address in another church in the evening.—New York Herald.

A SUGGESTED RELIEF.

At the end of this year the government will have a war fund of $150,000, 500 left over. But we need not have an other war to spend it. It will just nicely dig the Nicaragua canal.—Florida Times-Union and Citizen.

SLEPT ON THE STEPS

William Garen Went to City Hall For Slumber.

GIVEN A PLACE IN PRISON

Where It Was Warmer and He Would Not Be Disturbed—He Paid a Big Price For His Downy Couch This Morning. Tim Strain Taken to Canton.

Business was very slow last night in police court and the only arrest fell to the lot of Officer Mahony.

Early in the evening William Garen started to fill himself with fire water, and when the time arrived for him to go home he was very drunk and sleepy. He wandered around the streets for some time looking for a place to rest his weary bones, and finally spied the doorway of city hall. He immediately lay down and was soon fast asleep, and did not awaken when Officer Mahony appeared on the scene. The officer decided that it would be a pity to allow the man to sleep on the hard, cold steps when a comfortable bed was so near, and accordingly Garen was awakened and put to bed in one of the cells of the city jail with the loss of only a few minutes' sleep. This morning he appeared before Mayor Bough and his honor taxed him $6.60 for his sleeping apartments, which he paid and was released.

Officer McMillan this morning took Tim Strain to the Canton workhouse where he will remain until a fine of $25 and costs is worked out. The salary at the workhouse is very small, and it will be at least 75 days before Timothy again troubles the people of this city.

A WEEK OUT IN AFRICA

Consul C. E. Macrum Is Quickly Settled

IN HIS POSITION AND HOME

A Kaffir Boy Who Can Only Understand Three Words He Speaks, and a House at a Big Price Are Some of the Strange Things He Found in the Far Away City of Pretoria.

PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICAN REPUBLIC, Aug. 25.—We have arrived, I guess without special incident, at the city that will be our home for a number of years, and to one coming from the northern hemisphere it presents no end of new things for consideration.

Wednesday morning, Aug. 17, when I got up I found our vessel calmly lying at anchor within gunshot of extensive docks off Cape Town. I had seen many a picture of Cape Town but had no true conception of the beauty of the place as it nestles closely under the grand Table mountain and spreads around the great Lion's Head to the north. By 9 o'clock we were up to the dock, and as I had been recommended to the Queen's hotel we went out there. It is at Sea Point, and about three miles from the docks. We found it a beautiful place, with broad lawns running down to the sea where the breakers, always roaring, are met by a solid wall of stone. Behind is the great Lion's Head, right over the hotel, and looking from the shore it presents a beautiful picture. After lunch I went to the dock to get the baggage through, and was back to the hotel at 6, ready for the excellent bed prepared.

Thursday morning I went down to the consulate and saw Colonel Stowe who was expecting me, and then went to the station and booked passage for Pretoria. Friday we were at the station at 8:30 o'clock, and had a compartment all to ourselves. There were hampers of eatables from the hotel to provide us with sustenance on the long journey. We reached Hex River Pass at 3:30 o'clock, and went up the mountains at a good grade. The scenery was fairly good, but I got to rest early in a very comfortable bed. When I awoke we were in the Karoo desert, a most desolate place with little stunted brush and cacti. After leaving DeAur we passed a number of ostrich farms with any number of birds, and reached Newport at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Here we had lunch and dinner from a novelty, the kitchen van. Saturday morning we had passed into the Orange Free State before I awoke, and at 10 o'clock we were at Vererusing where our luggage was to be examined. My passports carried me through without examination, and an hour later we reached Elando where we changed into a Pretoria coach arriving at that point about 3 o'clock.

Monday morning I spent some time looking after private affairs and securing box 952 in the postoffice. I saw Mr. Harris, of Salem, our county, and received some mail from Johannesburg. We all took a walk before dinner, and saw President Kruger's house. Tuesday we walked out to Sunnyside and saw the house we expect to take, and after lunch I called on Mr. Grobber, secretary of foreign affairs, presenting my credentials and asking for my exequatur. Mr. Jeppe, the same day, took us out to see his house at Sunnyside. We were much pleased with it. The next morning I went to a hill with two gentlemen and secured some views of the town, and at 10 o'clock met Mr. Jeppe and agreed to take his house. Mr. Carey, a United States citizen residing at Kimberly, called on me the next morning. We also took possession of our house today.

It is built as I said before at Sunnyside, on the highest point yet built, and I think the most desirable of dwelling locations in Pretoria. It is one story, there is nothing else here, built of cement with all walls solid, no lath. Two rooms are to be used as offices for me, and the remainder is the residence proper. The rent is placed at $900 a year, but conditions are far different here from what they are in our own country, and I am advised we are getting a very good house for little money. It is all furnished, and very nicely too. They can get £12.6 for a house of five rooms unfurnished, while we have in addition to the two excellent office rooms, two bed rooms, dining room, bath room, kitchen and large pantry. The dining room is a beautiful apartment. The owner pays the water rent, and we have electric light. The front and rear stoops, they have no verandas here, are wide and comfortable and built of stone. The grounds are commodious and filled with trees and pretty walks. The lot is 250x150 feet and on three sides are small cypress hedges, while that in front is of arbor vitae.

We have a Kaffir boy. He can only understand three words I say, and I cannot understand anything he says. We get along fairly well because I point to what I want, and he understands it. We will use him for scrubbing and window washing for the present and as soon as it is necessary he can look after the garden. He has been raking up the lawn today, and has proved his ability to make an improvement in its appearance.

Pretoria looked anything but inviting as we came into it. Dust covered everything thickly. You have no idea of the dust in those sections of the city where much driving is done, and of course we came into the busy section. But we soon found all Pretoria was not so bad as what we first saw of it. Sunnyside has some, and if it is very windy I presume we will have it in our house thick.

COL. BRYAN ILL

The Nebraskan Took Down With Malaria Fever In Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Colonel William Jennings Bryan of the Third Nebraska regiment was unable to leave Washington yesterday for Jacksonville. "I have a touch of malaria," he said last evening, "and my physician told me yesterday that I would have to remain here for two or three days."

Colonel Bryan was in bed, where he passed most of the day.

Colonel Bryan expressed the reluctance with which he had admitted illness. While he is disposed to look upon his illness as trifling, it is not at all improbable that he will have to remain in Washington longer than he has been calculating to enable the fever to run its course.

Robbed of Their Gold.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 27.—Parties who arrived here from Alaska report that on the Dalton trail H. Frazer and E. L. Tolner, both of Seattle, were held up by two men near Haines mission and robbed of $4,300 in gold. The body of Ike Martin was found near the scene with a bullet hole through the head. He had been robbed of $4,000.

Pug Broke His Arm.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Dave Sullivan of Ireland was awarded the fight over Solly Smith of Los Angeles, featherweights, last night, at the end of the fifth round. During the second round Smith had the misfortune to break his left arm near the wrist.
